NATIONAL PROCEDURE (-S) FOR ASSIGNING AN EORI NUMBER

1.1. Description of the EORI registration processes for:

- economic operators established in this country;

Belgian economic operators that are already known to Belgian customs will be automatically registered in EORI: the EORI number = VAT number. They will be informed of this by letter by 15 June.

Those that are not automatically registered will need to fill in a registration form that will be available on the EORI website, and send it to our EORI registration authority by fax or by postal service. We intend to handle these registrations within 1 working day of receipt.

- economic operators not established in the EU;

These economic operators will need to fill in a different registration form that will also be available on the EORI website, and send it (accompanied with the necessary documents proving legal existence) to our EORI registration authority by fax or by postal services. We intend to handle these registrations within 2 working days of receipt if all the necessary documents have been provided.

1.2. Will an economic operator established in this country use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009 (Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?

1.4. Will all economic operators be informed individually which of the current identification numbers they should use as their EORI number?

We have not yet laid down a list of required documents for each country.

NATIONAL PROCEDURE (-S) FOR ASSIGNING AN EORI NUMBER

1.1. Description of the EORI registration processes in Denmark:

There are no changes in the registration process as a result of the EORI registration. Newly registered businesses are automatically assigned an EORI-No if they are registered in Denmark for import and/or export.

For companies already registered for export and/or import in Denmark, it has been decided to use the company's CVR/SE-No as the EORI-identification number. This is simply done by prefixing the CVR/SE-No with the Danish country code (DK) – For example: DK11223344.

Only economic operators not registered for import and/or export in Denmark will have to take action to get a Danish EORI-number.

Companies already registered in Denmark for VAT and need to be registered for Import and/or Export to get an EORI-no. have to use www.webreg.dk

Danish companies that need to be registered will have to use www.webreg.dk

Companies from foreign countries that need to be registered will have to use www.virk.dk/rut

1.2. Will an economic operator established in this country use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him before entry into force Reg. 317/2009 (Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?

YES

In Denmark it has been decided to use the company's CVR-No as the EORI-identification number. In some cases, where a company does not have a CVR-No, but instead has only been issued an SE-No, the SE-No will be used as the EORI-identification number prefixed with the Danish country code (DK)

There will not be licensed any new Certificates of Registration in regards of the EORI-No registration process. If company is asked to inform its Danish EORI-No, this is simply done by prefixing the CVR/SE-No with the Danish country code (DK) – For example: DK11223344.

1.3. Will an economic operator established outside the EU be able to use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him in your country before entry into force Reg. 317/2009 (Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?

YES

In Denmark it has been decided to use the company's CVR-No as the EORI-identification number. In some cases, where a company does not have a CVR-No, but instead has only been issued an SE-No, the SE-No will be used as the EORI-identification number prefixed with the Danish country code (DK)

There will not be licensed any new Certificates of Registration in regards of the EORI-No registration process. If a company is asked to inform its Danish EORI-No, this is simply done by prefixing the CVR/SE-no with the Danish country code (DK) – For example: DK11223344.

1.4. Will all economic operators be informed individually which of the current identification numbers they should use as their EORI number?

NO

There will not be licensed any new Certificates of Registration in regards of the EORI-No registration process.

We will inform via our website, <http://www.skat.dk/SKAT.aspx?oId=1817093>

We consider using other means of information.

1.5. Will EORI numbers be assigned in accordance with Article 41(4) CCIP to persons other than economic operators?

DOCUMENTS TO BE PROVIDED DURING THE REGISTRATION PROCESS

Which documents should be presented by an economic operator during the registration process for assigning an EORI number e.g. a document from the business register?

Most of the companies registered for import and/or export in Denmark do not have to take action because of the implementation of EORI. We do not require further documents regarding the EORI-registration.

Companies already registered in Denmark for VAT and need to be registered for Import and/or Export to get an EORI-no. will have to use www.webreg.dk

Documents required for Import and/or Export registration and new registration in Denmark can be found at: www.webreg.dk and www.virk.dk/rut

NATIONAL PROCEDURE (-S) FOR ASSIGNING AN EORI NUMBER*a. Description of the EORI registration processes for:*

- economic operators established in this country;

Every operator registered in Spain has a tax identification number (they are already registered for custom and tax purposes), so we will register them ex-officio, except branches or foreign persons (legal or natural).

They may communicate their written consent to the publication of personal data and other information through our website (virtual Customs and Excise Office).

Those operators who need to apply for an EORI number may do so through our website (virtual Customs and Excise Office).

- economic operators not established in the EU;

These operators do not have a tax identification number, so are not registered for customs or tax purposes. They cannot use the website to apply, because an electronic signature linked to the tax identification number is needed. So they can apply in any customs office, providing the information/documentation needed (see point 3).

- if relevant: other persons than listed above.

Only natural persons established in Spain will be given an EORI number (apart, of course, from those conducting customs activities). (The procedure is described in the previous paragraph).

- b. Will an economic operator established in this country use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009(Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?*

YES

The tax identification number will be used as EORI number.

- c. Will an economic operator established outside the EU be able to use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him in this country before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009(Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?

YES

If a tax identification number has previously been assigned, this number will be used as the EORI number.

- d. Will all economic operators be informed individually which of the current identification numbers they should use as their EORI number?

NO

We are using our website and national legislation has been published.

- e. Will EORI numbers be assigned in accordance with Article 4l(4) CCIP to persons other than economic operators?

YES

- f. New registration process: how long will it take to assign an EORI number from receipt of a request from the trader concerned?

If the trader has previously been assigned a tax identification number, EORI registration will take less than a week (5 working days). If not, the timeframe will depend on the time needed to get a tax identification number (about 10 working days).

DOCUMENTS TO BE PROVIDED DURING THE REGISTRATION PROCESS

Which documents should be presented by an economic operator during the registration process for assigning an EORI number?

Operators who have not previously been assigned a tax identification number should ask for one to the responsible authority in the Tax Agency. They will need to provide this authority with an original passport (in the case of natural persons) or a document from the business register. This document must be translated into Spanish with an apostille.

Once they have been given it, they will be registered in EORI.

NATIONAL PROCEDURE (-S) FOR ASSIGNING AN EORI NUMBER*a. Description of the EORI registration processes for:*

- economic operators established in this country;

The Finnish EORI data consists of economic operators registered for customs purposes (import, export, transit) in the customer register of the Finnish customs.

When economic operators apply to be registered customers involved in import, export or the transit of goods, they will be registered as EORI traders by that same process.

Finnish economic operators can also apply for EORI registration by filling in an application form to be published on the Finnish customs website.

- economic operators not established in the EU;

Third country economic operators can apply for EORI registration by filling in an application form to be published on the Finnish customs website.

- if relevant: other persons than listed above.

Other persons will not be EORI-registered by the Finnish customs.

- b. Will an economic operator established in this country use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009(Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?

YES

Businesses established in Finland will continue to use their Business ID (Business Identity Code) on customs-related declarations, the only difference being that our movement systems will now identify it as an EORI if registration has taken place.

The Business ID is a code given to businesses and organisations by the authorities and it is published on the Business Information System (BIS), which is an information system jointly maintained by the National Board of Patents and Registration of Finland and the Finnish Tax Administration. The BIS includes, among others, businesses and organisations entered in the Trade Register and the VAT register.

- c. Will an economic operator established outside the EU be able to use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him in this country before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009 (Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?

NO

- d. Will all economic operators be informed individually which of the current identification numbers they should use as their EORI number?

YES if firm registered after 1.7.2009

Finnish businesses have for years used only their Business ID for identification on customs-related declarations and since this will not change we see no reason to approach all economic operators individually. This concerns firms that have been in the Finnish customs register before 1.7.2009. For them information has been distributed mainly through different customer cooperation groups and on the website of Finnish customs.

Those firms that have registered their EORI number after 1.7.2009 is informed individually by letter that is sent them, when registration is accepted.

- e. Will EORI numbers be assigned in accordance with Article 4l(4) CCIP to persons other than economic operators?

NO

- f. New registration process: how long will it take to assign an EORI number from receipt of a request from the trader concerned?

The time taken depends largely on the volume of applications handled and how these are distributed over time. If the workload is normal, we expect there to be a delay of two days at most.

DOCUMENTS TO BE PROVIDED DURING THE REGISTRATION PROCESS

Which documents should be presented by an economic operator during the registration process for assigning an EORI number?

We demand no documents, because in our opinion these cannot be reliably validated. We do, however, ask the applicant to give various identification numbers, which can be checked using web-based databases. These identification numbers include the TIR ID number, the VAT number, a number from the national business register and the D-U-N-S number.

NATIONAL PROCEDURE (-S) FOR ASSIGNING AN EORI NUMBER

a. Description of the EORI registration processes for:

- economic operators established in this country;

It will not be necessary for qualifying traders who are already interacting with us to apply for an EORI number. NA-IE will automatically assign and issue an EORI number to them. For new economic operators already known to us, NA-IE intend registering and assigning EORI reference numbers immediately on application, having confirmed they meet the legal requirements. It will not be necessary for this application to be in writing. Given the consolidated (cross taxes) nature of our systems, we will be able to confirm status and update our national EORI records immediately. For newly incorporated cases, we intend embedding the EORI registration process within the existing Revenue Customs AEP as well as the VAT, income tax, etc, registration regime. See registration forms TR1 and TR2. Again, NA-IE does not see this as a lengthy process.

- economic operators not established in the EU;

NA-IE has identified the economic operators under this category who have historically engaged with us. These economic operators already hold national identification numbers and this number can be converted to an EORI number where qualifying. We have been communicating with this set, allocating EORI references or providing advice on a case-by-case basis.

- if relevant: other persons than listed above.

Not applicable.

b. Will an economic operator established in this country use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009(Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?

YES

NA-IE will be assigning the VAT number as the EORI number in the vast majority of cases. However, there may be a few exceptions (<1 %) to this where certain economic operators are not VAT-registered. In these cases, their C&E number will be assigned as their EORI number. At this stage, we have informed nearly all of the economic operators we have identified of their EORI number and are monitoring and registering new traders that come to our attention before 1 July.

- c. Will an economic operator established outside the EU be able to use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him in this country before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009 (Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?

YES

See 2.1 As with EU Economic Operators, the reference number used will almost certainly be their VAT reference.

- d. Will all economic operators be informed individually which of the current identification number they should use as their EORI number?

YES

At this stage, NA-IE have issued in excess of 13000 letters informing economic operators directly of their EORI number. For ongoing registration, a letter will also be sent to inform traders of their EORI number.

- e. Will EORI numbers be assigned in accordance with Article 4l(4) CCIP to persons other than economic operators?

NO

- f. New registration process: how long will it take to assign an EORI number from receipt of a request from the trader concerned?

NA-IE does not envisage any delay in registering new traders. Our analysis indicates that the vast majority of traders registering for customs will already have a VAT number. They will be nationally registered and advised of their EORI number at the point of contact. Given that IE EORI references on declarations lodged here are validated against our national system, there should be no delay in processing. An insertion message advising as to registration will be passed to the EU CD CDO database within 24 hours.

DOCUMENTS TO BE PROVIDED DURING THE REGISTRATION PROCESS

Which documents should be presented by an economic operator during the registration process for assigning an EORI number?

The process for EORI is an extension of our current tax registration controls so no documents will be requested other than those already required.

2. NATIONAL PROCEDURE (-S) FOR ASSIGNING AN EORI NUMBER

2.1. Description of the EORI registration processes for:

- economic operators established in this country;

All economic operators must be VAT registered and we use this registration number for EORI purposes.

1. All economic operators who already have had dealings with Customs and whose VAT registration and registration in the customs business registry are still valid were automatically registered in EORI.
2. New economic operators need first to register with the VAT Department.
3. The economic operator then applies to customs for registration in EORI presenting the VAT registration certificate and the filled-in EORI application form.
4. EORI Registration will be ready within one working day if all is correct.

- economic operators not established in the EU;

- A. To lodge summary declarations: expected to be either carriers or their representatives.

1. Since no economic operation may be said to be taking place within the country, no VAT registration need be made. The economic operator has to declare that the requirement is exclusively for submitting summary declarations making use of the EORI application form.
2. The operator also must submit proof of identification to customs. This would take the form of certification from national authorities. Further investigation to assure uniqueness of registration will be conducted.

- B. In order to lodge any other type of declaration the following are required for EORI registration:

1. Operator registers with VAT authorities.
2. Operator applies to customs for registration in EORI and demonstrates that he is established in Malta via registration with the Malta Financial Services Authority.

One common assigned number is used for this purpose; no EORI application form is needed.

B. Non-profit-making organisations (embassies, charitable institutions, government departments / ministries, social clubs, NGOs, etc.):

These will be individually registered in EORI. They apply directly to customs. The EORI number will be very similar to the VAT number issued for commercial operators but the digits will commence with a '9' which is not the case with VAT numbers.

2.2. Will an economic operator established in this country use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009(Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?

These will be individually registered in EORI. They apply directly to customs. The EORI number will be very similar to the VAT number issued for commercial operators but the digits will commence with a '9', which is not the case with VAT numbers.

2.6. New registration process: how long will it take to assign an EORI number from receipt of a request from the trader concerned?

2. NATIONAL PROCEDURE (-S) FOR ASSIGNING AN EORI NUMBER

a. Description of the EORI registration processes for:

- economic operators established in this country;

The EORI number is assigned only to those EOs that apply for the registration. No so-called ad hoc numbers are assigned, e.g. without submission of the completed and signed application form for registration/update containing all necessary data. The registration process is carried out directly in most customs offices (46) and customs branches in Poland (200, including 60 border crossing points).

The applications must be on paper (initially no electronic applications will be processed). Some supporting documents confirming the EO's identity (originals or certified copies) must be presented along with the application.

The same application form can be used for purposes other than registration, i.e.: updates/corrections, adding/appending data or deleting/cancelling the EORI number. The applications can be submitted by the EO or by its representative before or during the customs export or import operation. The person who submits the application should confirm his/her identity by showing a passport, an excerpt from the business registry or a driver's licence.

The EORI number will not be assigned to an EO if the process of verification proves that the data submitted is incorrect or duplicates are found in the national database. The EO is obliged to correct and to keep its data up to date.

Poland does not assign any ad hoc numbers. All assigned numbers are permanent. Besides regular "approved" EORI numbers, it is possible to obtain an EORI number with the status "to be completed". In such situations only data absolutely necessary for the EORI number to be assigned are obligatory, e.g. name, address as well as the NIP & REGON numbers for Polish EOs, though the data should be confirmed by proper documents. If the data at the time of submitting the EORI application form is incomplete, the EO is requested to provide the lacking data within 30 days from submitting the a/m application. Shall the data be not provided, the EORI number will be deactivated.

EOs can check the status of the EORI number on the website of the Polish Ministry of Finance at: <http://www.e-clo.pl/eori-subpage/index.jsp>

- economic operators not established in the EU;

The EORI number is assigned only to these EOs which apply for registration. No so-called ad hoc numbers are assigned, e.g. without submission of a completed and signed application form for registration/update containing all the necessary data. The registration process is conducted in most of the customs offices (46) and customs branches in Poland (200, including 60 border crossing points).

The list of customs offices (with addresses) where the EORI applications should be sent respectively of the offices' regional competence is available at:

http://www.mf.gov.pl/files/_sluzba_celna/rejestr_eori/dokumenty_i_formularze/uc_eng.pdf

The applications must be on paper (initially no electronic applications will be processed). Some supporting documents confirming the EO's identity (originals or certified copies) must be presented along with the application.

The same application form can be used for purposes other than registration, i.e.: updates/corrections, adding/appending data or deleting/cancelling the EORI number. Applications can be submitted by the EO or by its representative before or during the customs export or import operation. The person who submits the application should confirm his or her identity by i.e. showing a passport or a driver's licence.

The EORI number will not be assigned to an EO if the process of verification proves that data submitted is incorrect or duplicates of an EORI number are found in the national database. The EO is obliged to correct and to keep its data up to date.

- if relevant: other persons than listed above.

Not relevant.

- b. Will an economic operator established in this country use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009 (Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?*

YES

For national EOs: letters PL + NIP number (national tax payer's identification number — 10 digits) + 5 digits (zeros or suffix of the REGON number (National Official Business Register).

- c. Will an economic operator established outside the EU be able to use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him in this country before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009 (Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?*

NO

For third-country EOs: letters PL + unique sequential number generated by the EORI system + letter 'Z' at the end.

- d. Will all economic operators be informed individually which of the current identification numbers they should use as their EORI number?

NO

The economic operator is notified about the assigned EORI number by email, website or orally in customs offices or branches.

- e. Will EORI numbers be assigned in accordance with Article 41(4) CCIP to persons other than economic operators?

NO

Nevertheless in future, when the Polish EORI System will be upgraded, the extension of the EO registration by including of the natural persons will be considered. Such a scenario is foreseen (secured) in the Polish Customs legislation

- f. New registration process: how long will it take to assign an EORI number from receipt of a request from the trader concerned?

The time it takes to assign an EORI number after the receipt of a request from the trader is as short as possible. It depends on the organisation of the tasks in the customs posts where the registration is performed and on the time necessary in each case to enter all the required data from the application to the system by the customs officer. This takes approximately 15 minutes, and then a few more minutes for the registration process to be completed in the CDCO (messages are exchanged "per operation"), so the time depends partially on the network traffic).

3. DOCUMENTS TO BE PROVIDED DURING THE REGISTRATION PROCESS

Which documents should be presented by an economic operator during the registration process for assigning an EORI number?

For the registration to be complete, during the registration process an economic operator should present documents which confirm the data given on the registration form, i.e. the EO's name, registered address, date of registration, legal form of business, NACE core business code, VAT number, AEO number (if the EO has one) and those which confirm the identity of the person submitting the form. The above can be certified by a copy of document from a business register, the AEO certificate (if available) and the submitting person's ID document. The documents should be originals (if presented in person) or certified copies (if sent by post along with the application).

NATIONAL PROCEDURE (-S) FOR ASSIGNING AN EORI NUMBER

a. Description of the EORI registration processes for:

- Economic operators established in this country;

The EORI number for economic operators established in Portugal will be 'PT' plus the tax identification number (NIF) already assigned by tax authorities. So the registration process will be fully automatic.

As we will use an existing number for the EORI number, it will be not necessary for traders already known by PT customs administration to apply for an EORI number. They will be automatically assigned and issued with an EORI number. Nonetheless, PT economic operators will be invited to add optional data, such as consent to publication, using a dedicated page on the official website for electronic declarations (using the electronic signature).

For new economic operators (established in PT or with permanent representation in PT), we intend to register and assign them an EORI number immediately, as they enter the tax number in the customs declaration field or in another customs document required for other customs operations that requires an EORI number, once it is confirmed that they meet the legal requirements for economic operators (i.e. being a legal person or a natural person with tax status), through an interface with the tax database opened automatically by the various declaration systems. So, if they do not yet have a tax number (NIF), they must obtain it in advance from the PT authorities responsible for assigning the NIF. All the new information entered in the PT EORI database will be exported to the central database of the EC at the next opportunity on the same day.

In spite of that, we noted that new economic operators (established in PT or with permanent representation in PT), that don't have yet an EORI number assign by PT, can always be automatically register on DGAIEC web site (www.dgaiec.min-financas.pt) in the menu "Declarações Electrónicas", submenu "Alteração/complemento de registo de operadores estabelecidos em PT". For that propose they shall indicate the VAT number (NIF), and if they are an economic operator in the sense given by the article 1º n.º 12 Customs Code, the EORI number will be assigned at the moment. However the EORI Number will be on the central system only in the next day. This procedure is particularly important for PT OE that made the first declaration in a member state different from PT.

- Economic operators not established in the EU;

Economic operators not established on Community territory can apply for registration using a dedicated page on the official website for electronic declarations or using a form that can be downloaded and filled in manually and submitted by post to the authority responsible for assigning an EORI number. In both cases, it will be necessary to present legal documents proving identity and legal status, to confirm identity, before being assigned an EORI number.

For economic operators not established on Community territory, the EORI number will be 'PT' plus the ISO country code of the corresponding operator followed by a sequential seven-digit number, the last being a check digit. This registration process will take at least 24 hours once the supporting documents have been supplied.

- b. Will an economic operator established in this country use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009 (Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?

YES

As explained above, the PT EORI number will be the country code (PT) followed by the nine-digit tax identification number (NIF)

e.g. PT 123456789

- c. Will an economic operator established outside the EU be able to use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him in this country before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009 (Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?

NO

- d. Will all economic operators be informed individually which of the current identification numbers they should use as their EORI number?

YES, but only for economic operators not established on Community territory.

For economic operators established in Portugal, as the EORI number is a number that has already been assigned, and which they already use on customs declarations, we will use our web site and seminars and official communications to publicise the new system, the EORI number scheme adopted and the impact of the EORI number on the declarations systems.

- e. Will EORI numbers be assigned in accordance with Article 4l(4) CCIP to persons other than economic operators?

NO.

- f. New registration process: how long will it take to assign an EORI number from receipt of a request from the trader concerned?

This question is partially answered above. There is no waiting period for an EORI number if the economic operator is already registered with the tax administration. The EORI registry is created by automatic extraction of the necessary data from the tax systems. The EORI registration is exported to the central system the same day. Under Portuguese law, if the EO is not registered with the tax administration or has no business registration, he is not an authorised economic operator for customs purposes.

For non-EU economic operators, the time taken may vary and will depend on the number of days taken to receive the application together supporting documents submitted by post and the work needed to check their validity and legality. This may be between six and ten working days.

DOCUMENTS TO BE PROVIDED DURING THE REGISTRATION PROCESS

Which documents should be presented by an economic operator during the registration process for assigning an EORI number?

A passport or national identity document for natural persons.

Documents from the business register and Taxation Services of the country of origin for legal persons.

NATIONAL PROCEDURE (-S) FOR ASSIGNING AN EORI NUMBER

Description of the EORI registration processes for:

- Economic operators established in this country;

SI will apply Art. 4k(3) CCIP; i.e. we will use the tax number as an ID No for SI EOs and nationals:

EORI No for SI economic operators (an10): SI + Tax No (n8),

EORI No for SI natural persons (an11): SI + Tax No (n8) + O (a1).

The same situation will apply as now (no change for SI operators or nationals).
There is no need for them to apply for an EORI number.

All SI operators are registered in the Tax Register and have a unique tax number. Customs authorities have access to the set of data defined in the 'Agreement between the Tax Administration and Customs Administration', for all SI persons. This set of data is sent electronically to the customs IT system daily — into the register called 'CROS'. For the EORI requirements there will be another register named 'SEROS'. For initial uploading into the CPT central database, SI operators (not natural persons) involved in activities covered by customs legislation since 1 April 2004 (SI accession to the EU) will be transferred from CROS to SEROS with the EORI data set and then sent to the central database. After initial uploading: when an SI operator who is not in SEROS appears in the SI declaration there will be automatic transmission from CROS to SEROS and from SEROS to central database. The second possibility for SI operators will be so-called 'self activation' through a web application or customs office. This web application will also be used for giving consent to disclosure of personal data on the web and for inserting contact information.

- Economic operators not established in the EU;

Information required upon registration:

- Name
- Address of establishment
- Date of establishment
- Type of person
- Identification number(-s), where assigned to the person concerned for customs purposes by the competent authorities in a third country

- Contact information (contact person name; address; telephone number / fax number / e-mail address; e-mail address / fax number where information about assigned EORI number will be sent)
- VAT identification number(-s), where assigned by Member State(s) of the European Union
- Consent, if given, to disclosure of personal data

Declarations required upon registration

- declaration that the person has been informed that publication of EORI number, name and address is not mandatory and that rejection of publication on the internet will in no way affect the processing of his/her application or any customs formalities in which he/she is involved;
- declaration that for economic operator concerned no application for an EORI number has been submitted in another member state of the European Union and no EORI number has been assigned;
- declaration that information about any change of data will be sent with appropriate documents to the authority responsible for registering and assigning an EORI number as soon as possible.

Documents required upon registration:

- letter of authorisation for representation – mandatory only when the application is not signed by the responsible person of a legal person but by the person authorised by this person;
- original official document(s) providing identification data (name, address and date of establishment, type of person) and issued at the latest three months earlier by the authorities responsible for the business register or by chambers of commerce in the third country or in case of authorised TIR carnet holder a copy of the TIR carnet with legible Id. No. of the authorised TIR carnet holder;
- official translation of those documents into English – if required by the authority responsible for registering and assigning an EORI number.

Required data and declarations have to be entered into and signed on the "Application for the assignment of an EORI number". The application and the required documents are to be sent to the authority responsible for registration of economic operator and assigning an EORI number.

The information on the assigned EORI number will be sent to the economic operator not established in the EU by e-mail or by fax entered into his/her application.

If an operator has not been registered by the time he lodges a declaration, we will assign him or her a dummy ad hoc number (SIA33333333) for the declaration concerned. If the EORI number is mandatory, we will assign an EORI No with a limited expiry date, assuming the operator has at least the documents with the name and address of establishment. At the same time the instructions for permanent registration will be provided.

Permanent registration will be possible at only one customs office.

The structure of EORI No for non-EU operators is:

legal persons: SI + third country code + registration customs office code (an6) + an7 code;

TIR carnet holders: SI + T + code of the national association (n3) + unique TIR carnet holder id. number (n..10)

- if relevant: other persons than listed above.

Natural persons with a permanent residence in a third country will not be registered. We will use a dummy ad hoc No (SIA11111111).

- a. Will an economic operator established in this country use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009 (Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?

YES

The tax number is used as the unique identifier for SI operators.

- b. Will an economic operator established outside the EU be able to use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him in this country before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009(Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?

NO

- c. Will all economic operators be informed individually which of the current identification number they should use as their EORI number?

NO

The use of the tax number as the unique identifier for SI persons in Slovenia is included in the national legal provisions for the SAD. The information is also available on the national website.

- d. Will EORI numbers be assigned in accordance with Article 4l(4) CCIP to persons other than economic operators?

YES for SI natural persons.

- e. New registration process: how long will it take to assign an EORI number from receipt of a request from the trader concerned?

For SI persons the registration process is automatic.

For other persons the time taken will depend on the quality of the applicant's data — if all the documents and data required are submitted, it is expected that the registration process will be finished in a day or in a few days (depending on the number of requests).

DOCUMENTS TO BE PROVIDED DURING THE REGISTRATION PROCESS

Which documents should be presented by an economic operator during the registration process for assigning an EORI number?

For SI persons the registration process is automatic (no need for documents).

Natural persons with a permanent residence in a non-EU country will not be registered. We will use a dummy ad hoc No (SIA11111111).

Economic operators not established in the customs territory of the Community

Fulfilled and complete application with the required documents (please see point 2.1) are to be sent to the authority responsible for registration of economic operator and assigning an EORI number. Application form and all information are on web side <http://www.carina.gov.si/en/>.

Section B also requires the applicant to provide supporting documents. The supporting documents to be provided vary according to the different types of applicants (e.g. importer, exporter etc.). Please see (3) below.

Electronic Applications

Applicants will need to download and save the application form (Form C220 electronic application) as a Word document and complete the form as required. - Economic operators not established in the EU;

see above

- a. Will an economic operator established in this country use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009 (Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?

Yes

EORI replaced the current Trader Unique Reference Number (TURN) system in the UK 1 July 2009. The UK EORI number is based on the VAT registration numbers for UK VAT registered economic operators. It is also the VAT system that generates the EORI number for economic operators in the UK who are not VAT registered as well as operators established outside the EU. Provided the economic operator had used their TURN in the last 2 years and is a legal entity, UK customs have issued in many cases an EORI number to the economic operator automatically without them having to apply. In most cases the EORI number will be exactly the same as the TURN.

- b. Will an economic operator established outside the EU be able to use as the EORI number an identification number assigned previously to him in this country before the entry into force of Reg. 312/2009 (Art. 4k(3) CCIP)?

Yes

Please see 2.2 above.

- c. Will all economic operators be informed individually which of the current identification number they should use as their EORI number?

YES

In April/May 2009, UK customs notified all entitled economic operators who had used their TURN in the last 2 years of their new EORI number. In January/February, customs advised operators who were not legal entities that they would not qualify for an EORI number and that their parent company would need to apply instead.

- d. Will EORI numbers be assigned in accordance with Article 4l(4) CCIP to persons other than economic operators?

YES

The UK will register economic operators and individuals involved in customs activities for EORI.

- e. New registration process: how long will it take to assign an EORI number from receipt of a request from the trader concerned?

Applications will usually be processed within one working day, although it may take up to 72 hours at peak times. In addition it will take a further day to upload the information to the Commission and the UK customs system, CHIEF.
